Briefing Session: Meeting called to order at 4:05 PM by Austin Dickey

October 16, 2024 meeting minutes approved unanimously with a couple of changes to the attendance section. (10-0)

1. New Business:

- County Interlocal Agreement hangs in the balance. Waiting for County to complete their budget. HPO did provide a presentation to the BoCC in early November.
- Monaghan Statue - Fairmount Cemetery has agreed to accept the statue - City will move it next spring/summer. Still some processes to go through - ie: City Council resolution.
- We have a new fee schedule that is coming before the City Council soon. The Development Services Center conducted a fee study in 2024, and although we weren't part of the study, we looked at our fees as compared to the amount of work that each application takes as well as in comparison to cities of similar size in Washington. Our fees have not been updated since 2008.

- We have two special valuation applications to review in December - Fotheringham Residence in Browne's Addition and the Adams House which we reviewed for listing today. I have received a nomination from a property owner on W 16th that we will hear after the first of the year.

2. Old Business:

- HPO provided an update on new applications to join the Spokane Historic Landmarks Commission. Thanks for everyone who participated in the interview panels - we have recommended three applicants: Tim Dickerson, architect; Dana Bronson, historian and Donna Punihaole, City at Large.
- Deconstruction Ordinance passed by City Council 7-0.
- Adding Centers and Corridors to the SMC 17D.100.230 is moving forward with competing recommendations from Plan Commission and Landmarks Commission. HPO has met with administration and will be scheduling a meeting with City Councilmember Paul Dillon to discuss our concerns. This will be on the Urban Experience committee meeting on December 9.

3. The next SHLC Hearing is scheduled for Wednesday, December 18, 2024.

Briefing Session adjourned at 4:50 PM.
